sound of a skirmish.
YESTERDAY a man aged about twentyfive and five feet six inches tall and a woman over six feet high and thirty-five years old were wandering about town trying to got a justice of the peace to marry them. Whether they finally resorted to a minister was not learned.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT.

Two Wheeling carpenters got into a figgt at the west end of the Union railray bridge yesterday afternoon, and one of them bit a big piece out of the other's heek, making a shocking wound.

N. W. Pogue, foreman for Wilson & Co., was bossing several carpenters who were putting up a toll house on the bridge. One of the carpenters was a Wheeling man named Mossburg, and the others were non-union men. Mossburg quarreled with Fogue, and they came to blows. Finally Mossburg grab-hed Pogue about the neck, and milling the program of the program hed Pogue about the neck, and pulling him close to him, bit about half of one loss to suggest any explanation of his peculiar absence. So far about all the flicers have accomplished is to asceromers have accompused as to ascer-tain that several of the rumors that have been current are without foundation. It seems strange indeed that a man could drop entirely out of sight within a few hours, from a prominent place on Market street, when it was crowded, and no clue or succession of an explantion no clue or suggestion of an explanation should be found. The case is daily at-tracting wider attention.

Work on the Channel Pier.

Work was yesterday resumed on the channel pier of the new bridge to the Island, the water baying receded enough to permit it. The men continued at work till a late hour last night. The masonry ought to be above the water line, and the crib firm on the piling beneath it, by the middle of next week.

The workmen on the new back river bridge are pushing the work with all possible haste. Yesterday the large traveler was completed and two hoisting engines raised upon the false work. Everything is now ready for the iron, and the work of raising it into position will be begun Monday.

The Bennett-Moulton Company sang "The Grand Duchess" last night at the Opera House. The seats were all sold in advance, and the standing room sign was opt when the certain went up. The performance was as crediable to the company and as estisactory to the audience as have been all the operas of the week. The costuming was fine, and the ensemble work especially pleasing.

This afternoon at the matinee "The Black Huesar" will be given. It is one of the prettiest operas in the repertoire.

THE WHEELING

We're being daily advised of an increase in prices of carpets—There's no telling where prices may end—In every circular that carries the announcement of an increase there is a manifest uncertainty about future figures on goods—As yet there's no limit to the increased prices, and what's worse there's no knowing what the limit will be. Everything depends on the market, which is feverish and has an upward tendency. The excessive duties on wool created by the new tariff act has caused a big increase in prices—Wool has undoubtedly increased in value and everything that it enters into will as a consequence be dearer—Wo foresaw the fate of the McKinley bill—We knew its passage was assured—We anticipated its effects and took advantage of the market—We bought goods 20 per cent cheaper than we could buy to-day—We bought in large quantities—Thousands of dollars alone represent the value of our immense carpet stock, and that stock, bought when prices were low, equals a saving of hundreds of dollars to our patrons—Buying at an opportune time and in large quantities for spot cash, not only enables us to self at the old figures, but leaves us a margin for reductions—What we saved in our heavy purchase will be saved to our customer—Beginning to-day we will offer special reductions in carpets—This reduction is general and applies to no particular grade—Royal Wiltons—Wilton Velvets—Moqueta—Body and Tapestry Brussels in the most exquisite designs and richest colors, as well as lagrain Carpets in the most modern and pleasing patterns—Rich in colors and artistic in effect are all included—Carpets of every conceivable quality at reduced prices is what we offer for the week in this department, Whetling in the forther week in this department, WHEELING INSTALMENT CO.

We'll make special figures for special Chamber Suits this week—We tag our solid oak suits—Prices not commensurate with their value—These goods deserve your attention—They're well worth S3S—Our tag will indicate our special price, S3O—We can very strongly and do very highly commend these goods—Your own judgment, well exercised, will assist you in deciding that these goods never had even here equivalents for the same collateral—We have something in ash approaching these suits in style and finish, not quite as heavy but equally as well made as our S30 suits—Our prices on these suits will be $25—They're cheep at the price—Good rare value—In point of durability, however, we cannot recommend them as we do our $30 oak auits—We have in Sixteenth Century Finished Suits an endless variety—It is the most modern finish and by lar the most stylish—The effect is rather pretty and striking when the design of the suit and the appointments of the chamber—assist in making it—The two chief characteristics of an elegant chamber—We offer in these suits designs without stint—Perfect gems of artistic workmanship, pleasing and beautiful to the eyo—Prices range from $35 to $75—To the latest fad in finish (Sixteenth Century) we don't confine ourselves to chamber suits—Many have a leaning for old oak, but the general demand is for Sixteenth Century Finished goods—Our line includes Buflets—Sideboards—Hat Racks—Tables, etc.—Of Sideboards we could talk unceasingly—We cannot picture through words the richness of design, the perfection of workmanship and beauty of finish—We say come and judge for yourself.
